What's On and Where

The 13,000+ quick print pro subscribers are cordially invited to the launch of Print Trade Expo, open 24/7 365.

Can be asked.

When print shop owners and their suppliers ask their favourite print trade magazine to put on a show...

... We could only say YES.

Print Trade Expo is born out of this year's cancelled shows, covid travel restrictions, general safety confidence and on the brighter side our QPP readers genuine thirst for news of new products and services.

We researched 3D augmented reality platforms, paper plane exhibition hall fly throughs and concluded; although these are a great showpiece for web design and gaming enthused players, that for us grounded print people the navigation experience had to be mastered to steer from stand to stand.

Busy print personnel require a fewest clicks possible show scenario.

Big Thanks to the Exhibitors

---

Show organised by printers for printers.

Audience at the ready, suppliers eager to show off their new wares, we step boldly into an exhibition space where no print owner has been before.

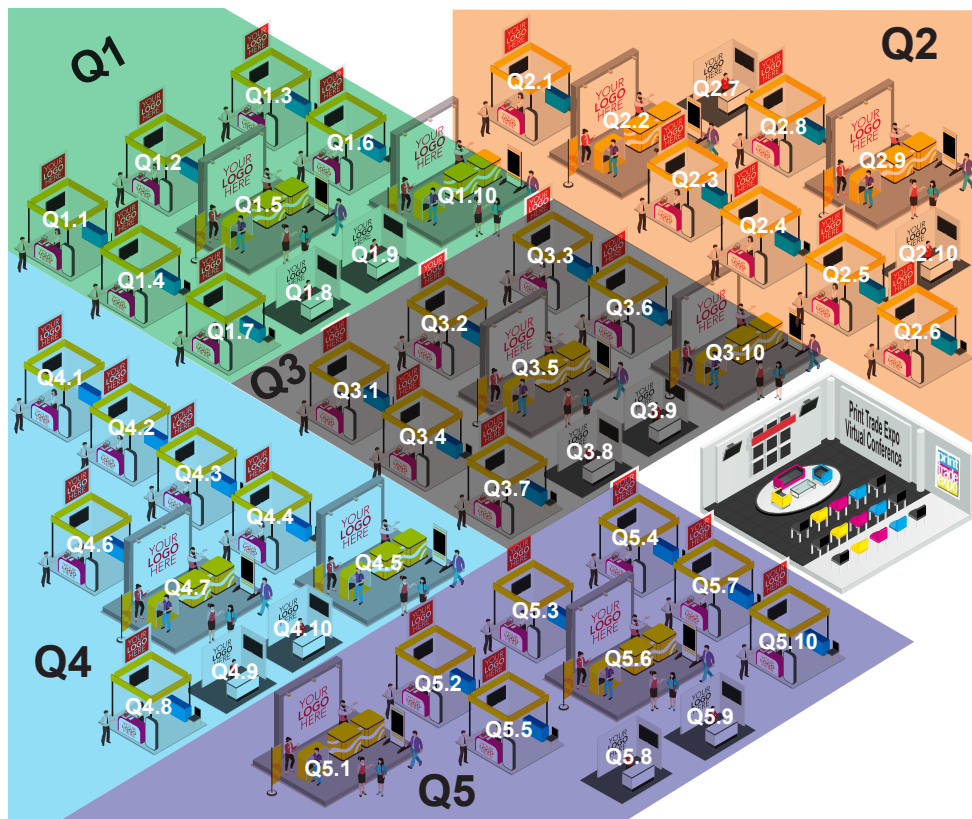

You are cordially invited to attend at a time and place best suited to you, come back for more as often as you can as show offers and product launches are updated on the fly.

See you at the show, no masks required and a big thanks to the exhibitors.

Show Coordinators

Visit regularly for new product launches, show visitor special deals, renew your wish list and plan your next investment, confident that you kept informed of all new inventions, updates and bolt-ons.

Start at the pre-press stands, explore new opportunities with the latest print technologies and profit margins. Research new print finishing methods to sell new print products to new customers and your existing user base.

As always in print, when you stand still, you are going backwards. Print Trade Expo is designed for you to be well armed to make informed investment decisions. Plus give your feet a break and take in a seminar in the on-site theatre or some training information, sign up to a few blogs of interest and join a virtual conference.
